

All dimensions and square footages are approximate. Plans, materials, specifications and window sizes and placement are subject to minor architectural, structural and other revisions as deemed advisable by the Developer, General Contractor, Architect, Engineers, or as may be required by law. The plans constitute a correct representation of the improvements described.